and the reports of the civil society

Who read the national report of the Lebanese Republic report to the Human Rights Council in the 23 session of the UPR session of Lebanon in the November 2, 2015 in Geneva, concluded that Lebanon is an garden of democracy and human rights and that most of the recommendations of the previews review in November 2010 may have been or on the way of implementation. But the truth is otherwise entirely, all projects and plans that talked about them the report and most of them have been emphasized in the first review in 2010 is still just projects not seeing the light at the operational level, but the human rights situation in Lebanon has seriously deteriorated in the past years at all levels.
